Nominal Badges
IMCAS strictly complies with the criteria required for CME accreditation. That is why the access to the conferences is subject to a number of strict rules, aiming to guarantee the scientific independence of the conferences, and to preserve it from any commercial interest or influence. A precise Badge Policy has been implemented, specifying the rules related to the admittance to the different areas of IMCAS conferences.

IMCAS Badge Policy is mandatory for all the participants. Its violation authorizes IMCAS Staff to take measures, and may lead to the withdrawal of the badge and the prohibition of access to the conference area. According to each participant's status (delegate, faculty, exhibitor, etc...), a corresponding barcoded badge is issued.

Fees for a full access delegate registration include:
- all conference sessions during the 4 days (except the teaching courses)
- access to the exhibit area including lunches and coffee breaks
- networking cocktail
- complete program book and USB key containing all conference details.
Companies and participants may copy materials for their personal use but further copy for sale or for any other commercial purpose is prohibited without prior permission of IMCAS.

Lunches & Coffee breaks
Coffee breaks and lunches are served on site to allow our delegates to fully visit the Exhibition Hall. Complimentary food and beverage is provided to Delegate and Faculty type badges. It is our primary concern to provide you with the freshest and best products. A particular attention has been given to the content of your lunch box which includes a sandwich, a salad, and seasonal fruits.

Check the program at a glance to get the coffee and lunch hours.

Insurance
Neither IMCAS Secretariat nor the Palais des Congrès accepts any liability for damages and/or losses of any kind which may be incurred by congress participants or by any persons accompanying them, during both the official conferences and social program.

Attendees may participate in all events at their own risk. Attendees are advised to take out insurance against loss, accidents or damages that could be incurred during the Congress. Verbal agreements will not be binding unless they are confirmed in writing.

Recording Policy
Recording (Photographic, Video and Audio) of the sessions of IMCAS congresses is STRICTLY PROHIBITED. Violators will be banned from future meetings and equipment confiscated.

CME Credits and Evaluation Forms
Your evaluation of this meeting is extremely important to the Scientific Committee in preparing future events. Moreover, CME credits will not be given to educational congresses unless Evaluation Forms are filled in by attendees. Evaluation forms should be electronically filled in no later than March 1, 2015. A Certificate of Attendance will then be automatically established and emailed to the attendee.
Additional information on the CME page and on www.imcas.com.

Science at the «Coeur» of the conference

On behalf of the IMCAS Paris 2015 Scientific Board, we would like to welcome you to the 17th edition of the IMCAS Annual World Congress, held in IMCAS' hometown dixit the "city of lights". Year upon year, IMCAS strives to bring you the best speakers and the broadest range of topics presented in the most innovative formats. 2015 will continue this trend.

With seven rooms boasting more than 160 hours of educational sessions over four days, we are certain that there is more than enough inspiring content to please each and every one of you. In practice, a distinguished scholar can attend a maximum of 30 courses out of the 160 on offer, something that may have left delegates feeling slightly frustrated in the past. We have resolved that this year by offering you the opportunity to catch up on any missed classes online via our ingenious platform that will be launched in the weeks following the congress.

Those of you who have remained faithful to IMCAS over the years may well have noticed that the name of our largest annual event has changed to reflect our international expansion over the last few years. But, just as William Shakespeare's rose would smell as sweet under any other name, our quest to bring you the most invigorating educational experience of the year remains as fervent as ever.

At the very heart of IMCAS is its dedication to unbiased scientific content. A group of international experts have put our program together with doctors and surgeons in mind. We don't believe that one size fits all and so the organization of our congress is such that you can choose to attend the sessions that are most relevant to you and in doing so we are sure that you will feel that this congress has been tailor-made to fit your unique professional profile.

Thank you for choosing to take advantage of this opportunity to be among the thousands of dermatologists, plastic surgeons, facial plastic surgeons and all concerned experts who are convening in Paris with the intention of learning, discovering and networking.

We are delighted to welcome you to the captivating city of Paris for our 17th edition.

What about CME?

The number of CME credits that a medical conference offers its participants varies globally according to the organism of accreditation. When IMCAS started the accreditation process a few years ago, only the US and a few countries worldwide had a precise accreditation process to follow. Nowadays, the situation is evolving extremely rapidly for both: national accreditation, country per country and international accreditation which allows for mutual recognition between country A and country B.

In other words, a doctor can earn CME credits for a conference attended abroad and be recognized for an equivalent number of credits within his or her own country. Registered delegates are entitled to receive CME credits. To obtain your CME credits, you first need to fill in the evaluation form promptly at the end of the conference (either at the e-learning station or at home by March 2nd, 2015).

IMCAS ANNUAL WORLD CONGRESS 2015 is accredited - registered as follows:

IN FRANCE through the Management body of Continuing Professional Development (Organisme Gestionnaire du Développement Professionnel Continu - OGDPC).
For further information, please go to www.ogdpc.fr
and follow the process described at www.mondpc.fr

Reference OGDPC 5999 / Reference Organisme Formateur 11 75 43508 75

IN EUROPE through the European Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (EACCME)., Institution of the European Union of Medical Specialists (UEMS).

IMCAS World Congress 2015 (Event Code 11550): 21 CME Credits.
IMCAS Injection Cadaver Workshop (Event code 11608): 3 CME Credits.

IN THE USA

• through conversion via EACCME - accreditation under process
EACCME credits are recognized by the American Medical Association towards the Physician's Recognition Award (PRA).
The AMA PRA Category 1 Credits are available for all the specialists.
Apply for conversion of EACCME credits to AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™ (conversion ratio equals 1) and download the «Application for EACCME Credit Conversion» on AMA website. Then, submit the completed application by fax or mail along with a copy of the EACCME credit certificate and processing fee.

• through the AMERICAN ACADEMY OF DERMATOLOGY - 18 CREDITS
The International Master Course on Aging Skin Annual World Congress (Program #65108) is recognized by the American Academy of Dermatology for 18 AAD Recognized Credit(s) and may be used toward the American Academy of Dermatology's Continuing Medical Education Award.

What about abstracts?

We received 511 abstracts for IMCAS Annual World Congress 2015, representing 61% of presentations which require an abstract!

Thanks to the dedication of our lecturers, whereas Faculty members or contributing speakers, and the thorough reviewing work of the IMCAS Scientific Board, the scientific program reaches each year a higher quality level. The selection and study process of these abstracts ensures in particular the tracking and follow-up of the program contents as well as the best studying materials for our delegates.

The Conflict of Interest policy (COI) that was initiated a few years ago ensures unbiased presentations: all presentations, including oral lectures, posters and e-papers are concerned by this COI, which is constantly updated by IMCAS in order to match the criteria imposed by international CME accreditation entities.

This year, 70,6% of expected abstracts in interface have been submitted, bring dermatologists and MDs at the top of the submission process, while plastic surgeons are close behind with 52,8% of abstracts submitted in their category.

Abstracts are sorted out into three topic categories, all dealing with aesthetic surgery and cosmetic dermatology.

Top 10 presenting countries

As expressed in the graphic below, the worldwide reputation of IMCAS has been well proven. The eagerness of international physicians to share and spread their knowledge at a large scale is higher than ever. This year, the Scientific Program of IMCAS is drawn from the contribution of speakers coming from 48 different countries.

Overall, French and North American speakers are well ahead of the pack, while Germans, Italians and British still impress by their large proficiency. It is however interesting to notice that among the top 10 contributing countries, Eastern Europe (with Russia and Ukraine) and the Middle East (with Israel and Egypt) stand out, marking the undeniable growth of our profession and industry in these parts of the world. For more insight about the particularities encountered there, be sure to attend our exceptional Middle East Masterclass (Thursday, from 9 AM to 4 PM in room 9) and the outstanding Eastern Europe Masterclass (Saturday, from 8 AM to 4:30 PM in room 7).

«We would like to express our utmost appreciation to all abstract submitters, and to all their reviewers for their precious time and efforts spent on the 2015 IMCAS Annual World Congress, always helping us to improve and go beyond our limits.»

IMCAS presents

La Nuit des IMCAS Awards

Paris in the fifties

You spoke, we listened! Voters in our online poll decided that the theme for this year's Gala Dinner would be the late 1950s and early 1960s as inspired by the hit show Mad Men. But we're in Paris, not the USA and the 1950s was the heyday for Paris based Hollywood romances - Funny Face and An American in Paris being two of the best known.

So we have decided to bring the Hollywood glamour of the late 1950s to Paris for one night of convival company. Whether you find inspiration in the smart suits and carefully coiffed hairdos of Mad Men, in the racy red lipstick of Marilyn Monroe, or in the elegant white gloves of Audrey Hepburn, we want to see your inner starlet break free!

This year, La Nuit des IMCAS Awards is being held in support of Breast Cancer Research. Even if you do not work with breast cancer sufferers in your everyday practice, there is a high chance that you have come across someone who has been touched by this common form of cancer in your personal life. During the evening, we will honour an association that has contributed to advancing research into Breast Cancer (name of the association to be announced during the event).

Dr Marina LANDAU,
Dermatologist, ISRAEL

President of the International Peeling Society (IPS), collaborating on session 52 dedicated to peelings.

What are the indications that define the best peeling to use?

Peelings are extremely versatile, efficient, safe and predictable.

- We use superficial peels for acne and dyschromia management.
- Medium peels are used for solar damage, lentigines and precancerous lesions on the face.
- Deep peels are the best method to address facial wrinkles, especially around the mouth.

What are the most common complications linked to peelings, and how can they be prevented?

Post inflammatory hyperpigmentation can occur in darker phenotypes with deeper peels. This can be avoided or managed by preparing and treating the skin with bleaching products and sun protection.

Have you had any situation with a patient after a peeling procedure, and how did you handle it?

A few years ago I treated a 76 year-old woman. Two weeks after the peel, she travelled abroad. They stopped her at passport control because in her passport photo she looked 20 years older. They called me so that I could medically approve the reason for this metamorphosis.

Dr Val LAMBROS,
Plastic Surgeon, USA

Key speaker within sessions 13 & 38 to 40 dedicated to facial aging.

How did you come to define a new concept of facial aging?

Plastic surgeons and dermatologists have assumed that treatments to alter the appearance of facial aging address the intrinsic mechanical problems of aging itself. These assumptions, largely traditional and therapeutic, have not been examined for truth.

My studies have been focused on high quality linear observations on the same faces over time and show that things are not always what they seem. These studies differ from others in that they are linear over time and the images are very close in position so they can be superimposed and meaningful conclusions can be reached.

The tools for treating the aging face are limited, but their uses change with increased understanding of how the aging process unfolds. One would not try to fix a watch without understanding how it works.

Dr Serge DAHAN,
Dermatologist, FRANCE

Vice-President of the Laser Group of the French Society of Dermatology (GLSFD), collaborating on sessions 54, 55, 56 & 75 dedicated to lasers and EBD.

What is the Laser Group of the French Society of Dermatology (GLSFD)?

The Laser Group is the thematic group of the French Society of Dermatology dedicated to the practice of lasers, and related technologies, in medical and aesthetic dermatology. The Laser Group's objectives include theoretical and practical teaching, clinical studies and evaluations, and ethical work concerning lasers and related dermatological technologies. Founded in 1998, today it numbers more than 500 members who participate in these events.

What have been the major breakthroughs in the field of lasers in 2014?

The advances in the fields of lasers and related technologies are numerous both medically and aesthetically, and have led to a greater control of these technologies.

- On the medical front, the treatment of scars with lasers and related technologies has progressed, notably for acne scars. Lasers (YAG and others) that treat onychomycoses have also appeared. New picosecond lasers are also being offered for the quicker and more effective removal of tattoos.
- Additionally, radiofrequencies are developing quickly, with the appearance of fractioned radiofrequencies with micro needles; ultrasounds are being used not just for the body and cellulite but also to remodel the face with a mechanical effect.
- Body treatments are also developing, not only with radiofrequencies and ultrasounds but also with cryolipolysis
- Finally and most importantly, it is the greater control, the combination and the amalgamation of these technologies that is developing in such a way as to optimize the results from facial and corporal treatments.

How can IMCAS optimize teachings in this particular field?

For the first time we are organizing Laser Group sessions during IMCAS. For us and for all dermatologists it will be the occasion to take stock and to display our practices at an international level. It will be the occasion to exchange ideas and to learn alongside other actors in the worldwide aesthetic and laser market and to make our "French touch" known.

We hope that many of you will join us during IMCAS Annual World Congress 2015.

Dr Ashraf BADAWI
Dermatologist, CANADA & EGYPT

Director of IMCAS Middle East Masterclass

What are the specificities of the morphological type in the Middle East?

Although all skin types are represented in this region, most of the people living in this region belong to Fitzpatrik skin type 3 & 4 in which pigmentery issues, acne and acne scarring are the most commonly encountered problems. As part of the global communication revolution and transfer of information, not different from the rest of the world, cosmetic procedures are on the rise and the demand is increasing.

What are the therapeutical consequences of taking into account morphological differences?

It is of extreme importance to pay attention to sun exposure before and after using any light based treatment as well as peels and to use the appropriate sun screen as it is very common to get PIH if the skin is not well protected from the sun.

What will be the various themes covered by the IMCAS Middle East masterclass?

Addressing the particularities of the skin in this region with the various cultural and environmental influences.
Key opinion leaders from the region will explore their experience in different fields of aesthetic procedures and surgeries.
It is a golden opportunity to get people with the same concerns and experiences together which will stimulate fruitful scientific discussions.

Focus themes

CHECK OUT OUR SELECTION OF SOME OF THE MOST INNOVATIVE THEMES OF THIS YEAR'S CONGRESS. ASSOCIATED WITH EACH THEME ARE A NUMBER OF DEDICATED SESSIONS, DETAILS OF WHICH CAN BE FOUND IN THE MAIN PROGRAM. READ ON FOR A SUMMARY OF THE HIGHLIGHTS OF EACH THEME.

COSMECEUTICS

New to IMCAS this year is an entire day dedicated to this relatively new field that is currently developing at lightening speed. Throughout the day you will be able to explore the science behind the cosmeceutical craze – from the fundamentals to the most recent research developments in this field. You''ll also learn about the appropriate products to use on different skin types and skin conditions and will develop an understanding of the way in which cosmeceuticals and cosmetic procedures can complement one another. (Page 33)

Theme moderated by Hertsel ADHOUTE and Dominique DU CREST.

INJECTIONS & CADAVER ANATOMY

Our pioneering Cadaver and Injection workshop is back by popular demand! You will have the unique opportunity to observe at the same time live injections simultaneously with live dissections. This will give you a valuable insight into what's going on under the skin, and will help you to better deal with complications. A new addition this year is the module dedicated to fat anatomy, which will cover the most important parts of the body, from face to breasts. (Pages 22, 23)

Sessions dedicated to fillers and botulinum toxins will give you a well-rounded view of best practice and recent developments in these fields, enriching your learning throughout the congress. Covering a number of different body parts, including a special session dedicated to the hands and a variety of treatments, from traditional toxins and fillers to injectable lipolysis, these sessions will equip you with the necessary tools to get the best results and to avoid complications.

Theme moderated by Philippe KESTEMONT.

CLINICAL DERMATOLOGY

Another brand new addition to the 2015 program. These sessions, which lie at the boundary of aesthetic development, have been designed to update you on the pathology behind some of the commonest dermatological indications. Concentrating not only on the clinical evidence that lies behind ailments such as acne or rosacea but also on innovations in treatments, these sessions will give you essential knowledge and skills to apply to your everyday practice. (Page 34)

Theme moderated by Mark NESTOR.

4 FACE & BODY RESHAPING

These sessions will cover the multitude of ways in which different parts of the face and the body can be reshaped. Covering both surgical and non-surgical techniques, each session will be dedicated a specific part of the body, giving you a valuable insight into the technical peculiarities associated with the arms, face, neck, inner thighs and more. From fillers and fat grafting to threads, lasers, EBD and scalpels, these sessions will give you an extensive arsenal of techniques and procedures that will no doubt be greatly appreciated by your patients.

Theme moderated by Benjamin ASCHER.

5 RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT, NEW PRODUCTS & DEVICES

In the fields of plastic surgery and cosmetic dermatology, innovation is everywhere. Researchers and practitioners alike are constantly looking for new ways to revolutionize treatments. We're going to give you an exciting sneak peak into what the future holds in your field. You'll explore the inevitable role that 3D technology will play in the coming years alongside developments in injectable fillers and much more. We will also introduce you to some innovative products for the face and the body that are new to the market. Of course, new does not necessarily mean safe or proven and so these sessions are designed to be controversial and to spark debate.

Theme moderated by David GOLDBERG.

6 VULVOVAGINAL

Vaginal rejuvenation procedures have seen a huge increase in popularity throughout the world over the last few years. We will take you through the fundamentals before moving onto in depth analyses of surgical and non-surgical procedures. We'll compare different methods of vaginal reshaping and tightening and take a thorough look at the newest innovations in injections, lasers and EBDs for vulvovaginal rejuvenation. You will leave these sessions with a broader and deeper understanding of what your patients are looking for and how best to achieve their wishes.

Theme moderated by Bernard MOLE.

7 LASERS & EBD

Picosecond ultrasonics, fractional lasers, radiofrequency, Q-switched Nd:YAG lasers, cryolipolysis, microneedling… there are a huge number of different technologies in this sphere. Learn about the most recent developments in the field and discover how to get optimal results in the treatment of scars and hyperpigmentation as well as the removal of tattoos and hair. Take the optional Teaching Course for additional exclusive insights into new trends and innovative applications of these technologies.

Theme moderated by Hugues CARTIER, Serge DAHAN, Anne LE PILLOUER PROST, Michael NAOURI, and Bernard ROSSI.

8 PRACTICE MANAGEMENT

Nowadays, there is much more to be being an aesthetic practitioner than performing procedures. You need to be an astute businessperson too. These sessions will teach you top marketing tips and tricks: from building a website to handling social media to using the press to your advantage. Moreover, we will cover the tricky legal landscape and, if you're looking to expand your business, we will give you insights into how best to go about it, always keeping quality and ethical practices in mind.

Theme moderated by Steven DAYAN.

9 FACIAL AGING

In the past, theories of facial aging were based upon the way in which the aging process was treated. Nowadays an approach based on careful observation over a period of time has given rise to new concepts in facial aging, including the innovative analysis by complex. Focusing primarily on facial anatomy, these sessions will offer insights into the effects on the face of changes in volume, fat, ligaments and more. From the fundamentals concerning wrinkles to an in depth analysis of volume loss, you will gain a comprehensive understanding of the influences of a variety of elements on the aging face.

Theme moderated by Nelly GAUTHIER and Olivier GERBAULT.

10 RHINOPLASTY

As a surgeon, you need to take into account not just the wishes of the patient but also the tissue components, the morphology and the feasibility of a number of different invasive and non-invasive procedures. We are offering you a feast of different sessions, each dedicated to a different area of the nose, that will focus on new techniques and that will give you a refreshed understanding of osteotomies, skin grafting, tip reshaping and more.

Theme moderated by Olivier GERBAULT.

11 BREAST IMPLANTS

Breast augmentation is one of the most popular surgical procedures in the world and so it's vital for any plastic surgeon to keep up to date with new developments in the field. These sessions will cover controversial topics such as the use of polyurethane coated implants and will also delve into the most common complications in breast augmentation surgery giving you the necessary tools to deal with them effectively.

12 LIPOFILLING & STEM CELLS

It has long been said that the future of medicine will be in stem cells. These sessions will deal with lipofilling of a number of different areas of the face and the body, concentrating on the newest and most effective techniques to optimize. Innovations in platelet rich plasma techniques will also be covered in an optional Teaching Course and on Sunday you will have the opportunity to meet the international experts in this field.

Theme moderated by Guy MAGALON and Ali MOJALLAL.

MODULE 1 - FACE
CHAIRS: Marina LANDAU, Raphael SINNA

MODULE 2 - BODY

CHAIRS: Benjamin ASCHER, Sebastien GARSON
CHAIRS: Raphael SINNA, Jonathan SYKES

Nota: want to follow-up with the injection results? Rendez-vous on Friday, at 2:30 PM in room 8 for session 51.

DESCRIPTION, PURPOSE & OUTCOME

This workshop is designed to give the practitioners an exclusive opportunity to expand their current repertoire of injection techniques concerning toxins, fillers & fat, covering most important face and body parts as well as controversial areas. This lab format experience, with both diagnostic scanning and injections, presents ample opportunities for participants to ask questions and discuss with the experts.

Dissections are transmitted live via satellite from the Fer à Moulin Surgery School of Paris, France, using fresh cadavers. Post dissection immediate live injection demonstrations on living patients will provide the participants with a sense of realism. The combination of cadaveric studies in correlation with the living tissues is a unique feature of IMCAS.

This complete workshop offers the most in-depth and comprehensive opportunity for the participants to profit from an alternative and intense learning experience, focusing on the injection techniques of the whole face and body. Lasting five hours, the workshop is split into three modules. The starting point is the study of facial anatomy, this is followed by an in-depth look at the hands. Finally, the examination of fat anatomy finishes off the day.

The desired outcome is to integrate multiple aspects of injection management in treating the patients, allowing the physicians to improve their skills in a very practical way and thereby reducing patients risks and complications.

With the collaboration of:
- the Fer à Moulin Surgery School of Paris
- the Institut Universitaire de la Face et du Cou (IUFC - French Institute of the Face and Neck)

CONFLICT OF INTEREST DISCLOSURE

How does IMCAS broadcast the information to its speakers?

Scientific lectures are presumed to be based on objective interpretations of evidence and unbiased interpretations of facts. The integrity of our conference requires disclosure of the possibilities of potentially distorting influences. The audience may then judge and, if necessary, make allowance for the impact of the bias on the information being reported.

In general, the safest and most open course of action is to disclose activities and relationships that, if known to others, might be viewed as a conflict of interest, even if speakers do not believe that any conflict or bias exists.

This is why each speaker is asked to display his or her disclosure slide before beginning to lecture.

How about speaker(s) declaring a "no Conflict of Interest"?

Neither the speaker nor any member of his/her immediate family has a significant financial arrangement or affiliation with the product, device or company involved in the congress nor any potential bias against another product, device or company.

Video paper sessions are a new format at IMCAS, enabling speakers to deliver their presentation in an informal location, within the exhibiton hall of the congress. Authors are asked to provide a 12 to 15min oral presentation to support their study. The oral presentation is being recorded at the same time and will be accessible online on IMCAS website in the coming months.
Come and meet each one of these authors in the Exhibition Hall - Level 2 next to the welcome desk.

Educational grants

IMCAS retrieves its revenues either from the industry's subscriptions or from doctors's subscriptions. IMCAS is conducting educational activities but it is also a profit-seeking business.

How can then this dilemma be resolved? Simply by clearly identifying and differentiating sponsored activities from non sponsored ones.
Business grants and sponsorships are then to be clearly explained in order for all concerned parties (doctors, industries, foundations, government bodies, private purpose funds) to stay aware and vigilant. Thus, IMCAS embraces and welcomes funding, always given the fact that funds origins are traced.

Industries acting as business corporations, may support IMCAS by providing either an educational grant or a sponsorship.
> A grant for a program or an event is a financial donation with no exchange partnership at stake. Funds are given according to the donator wishes in order to support the recipient's program or project.
> A sponsorship is the financial support of an activity. Sponsoring an event involves a partnership exchange between the sponsor and the sponsee. Although a commercial intent may be at heart, one must bear in mind that reasons for sponsoring are various.

Under an educational grant, funds are given in order to support the recipient's program or project. Unlike sponsoring, which is a bilateral exchange involving the recipient promoting its sponsor, granting is a unilateral gesture.

The four following sessions or group of sessions are benefiting from a financial donation with no exchange partnership at stake. The scientific content is entirely developed and chosen by the Scientific Board and as such is eligible for CME accreditation.
